New Horizons . . .

Today, throughout the world,

Our world is a continually changing one. Today, for example, man is on the threshold of exploring the vast regions of space. Tomorrow he will be concerned with interplanetary space travel. We, as educated Christians, are destined to have an essential and integral part in this new life. It follows quite logically that we should be prepared to take an active part in this new adventure. This is one of the basic aims of Fairfield University. We must be prepared to set the pace, to be leaders and not followers. That is the mark of a fully educated man. It is our intense hope that, through the admirable traits which have been presented to us, we may be able to attain this goal.

IN THE FALL OF 1959, OUR CLASS ENTERED FAIRFIELD UNIVERSITY. PERHAPS WE COULD BE COMPARED TO FLEDGELINGS, IN THE SENSE THAT THIS WAS THE FIRST OCCASION FOR MOST OF US TO MAKE USE OF OUR WINGS OF INDEPENDENCE. HOWEVER, UNDER THE GUIDANCE OF OUR TEACHERS, WE SOON REALIZED THE SOUNDNESS OF A STATEMENT MADE BY BENJAMIN FRANKLIN. "ALL THINGS HAVE THEIR SEASON, AND WITH YOUNG MEN YOU MUST CURB THEIR FANCY TO STRENGTHEN THEIR JUDGEMENT."

NOW WE APPROACH THE COMPLETION OF OUR COLLEGE CAREERS. WE WISH TO SINGLE OUT ONE MAN WHO HAS BEEN INFLUENTIAL BOTH IN OUR DEVELOPMENT AND IN THAT OF THE UNIVERSITY ITSELF. THIS DEDICATED PRIEST HAS WITNESSED THE INTELLECTUAL AND PHYSICAL GROWTH OF FAIRFIELD. HE HAS WATCHED ITS EXPANSION FROM THE EMBRYONIC STAGES TO ITS HIGH CALIBER OF TODAY. BEING MINDFUL OF THIS, WE, THE CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SIXTY-THREE, TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO DEDICATE OUR YEARBOOK TO ONE OF THE FOUNDING FATHERS OF FAIRFIELD UNIVERSITY. . . .

Formation of the Mind

All currents of thought converge on the university campus: theology, the liberal arts, the natural sciences. As they are taught in the classroom, they are reflected, debated, and practiced in many and varied activities that flourish at Fairfield. Through our teachers, then, and our participation in these activities, we are better prepared to enter the world after graduation.

New Frontiers is the campus literary journal issued three times during the school year. It features articles, fiction, essays, drama, and poetry carefully selected from the efforts of students, faculty members, and outside contributors. This year, for the first time, a unifying theme was assigned to each of the three issues, Art, Philosophy, and Theology, successively, in such a way as to organize the subject matter of the features rather than limit their scope. Richard Lawless, '64, and Dale McNulty, '64, are the co-editors; the faculty moderators are the Rev. John L. Bonn, S.J., and Mr. Arthur R. Riel, both of the English Department.

Membership in the Club is open to all undergraduates. Its purpose is to promote interest in and provide information on contemporary political, social, and economic issues. Where appropriate, the Catholic approach and answer to these problems is stressed.

Two members are appointed each week to discuss the pros and cons of a selected issue and to lead the subsequent discussion from the floor. Members of the club also accept the responsibility of representing the University in the Connecticut Intercollegiate Students Legislature; most of the delegates sent to the Legislature are members of the club. A special event is the annual dinner at which some outstanding figure in public life is invited to address the members.

Students majoring in Modern Languages have a choice of French, German, Russian or Spanish. The usual requirements for majoring in Modern Languages are completion of second-year college language or its equivalent of advanced placement and recommendation. The undergraduate courses, both required and elective, are planned to give students an intimate acquaintance with the modern forms of the language spoken in the principal foreign countries. Systematic attention is paid to pronunciation, reading, syntax and conversation. Special emphasis is laid on the study of literature and civilization.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club is a fraternal organization which aims at familiarizing its members with the various aspects of German history, literature, art, music, and customs, as well as topical issues. Membership is open to all who are interested in the aims and work of the club, desiring to supplement their knowledge of the German people, land and culture.

The present German Club is a relatively new and growing organization, having been reorganized just last year.

During the past year the activities of the German Club have given the members the opportunity to broaden their knowledge of Germany through movies, lectures, colored slides of Germany, and informal talks by members who have been to Germany.

Socials are held with a few of the neighboring colleges. The most successful of the socials have been Dinners, German Sing Alongs, and Dances at which popular German recordings set the atmosphere.

In general the club provides the students with a variety of activities, both social and academic, which supplement the students outside of the classroom life.

SODALITY OF OUR LADY OF FAIRFIELD

The Sodality is an organization of men dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary in its endeavors to achieve the three-fold goal of sanctification of self, sanctification of others, and defense of the Church. This was a year of substantial alteration in both the structural and dynamic aspects of Sodality life. Under the guidance of the Moderator Rev. Joseph W. Murphy, S.J., Rev. William Devine, S.J., Rev. James Bresnahan, S.J., and Rev. Donald Lynch, S.J. the Sodality assumed a fresh, new system of action. Much of the credit should be given to the major officers, Joseph Cirascualo, Richard Lawless, Robert Bethke, David Gianetti, and James Morre. The officers and council members formulated a consolidation of the previous twelve committees into four united groups working in the fields of education, publication, liturgy, and Catholic action. Under the leadership of George Egan, James Davidson, Joseph Kearns, and Thomas Mosakowski respectively, these committees channeled their activities through a theme of "international awareness" in order to fulfill the Sodality Goals. Such worthwhile activities as teaching high school students in the area Christian doctrine, supporting the Jesuit Missions through weekly collections, publishing the monthly paper The Layman, and fostering student participation in the Missa Recitata on campus formed the core of Sodality functions.

CANISIUS ACADEMY

Our Life and End

The Canisius Academy is an academy open to all students interested in discussing theological questions of genuine concern to the intellectual lay catholic.

Its aim is to provide an opportunity for students to broaden and deepen the Knowledge of theology already gained in the classroom. The academy accomplishes its purpose through bi-weekly book reviews, followed by group discussions. Members of the academy select a book of current theological interest, and having read the book, deliver a commentary for the length of approximately a half an hour. The book review is followed by a discussion period.

R. Lucey and W. Reidy give progress report.

Fairfield's Ignation Council, this year's best college council in America, began in September to fulfill the commitments that would capture that honor for Fairfield in 1963. As the only Catholic, fraternal organization on campus, the Ignation Council feels very strongly its responsibility both to the Brothers and to the University.

The Grand Knight, Michel Lafitte, Deputy Grand Knight, Vincent D'Alessandro, and other officers and chairmen scheduled dates for the prayer card, Degree Exemplifications, University Lectures, Communion Breakfasts, and a school mixer. As in past years, our Worthy Chaplain, the Reverend T. E. McPeake, S.J., was a beacon for the Council. His loyalty and devotion has done so much to make us better Catholic gentlemen.

D. Smothergil and W. Reidy add another certificate of honor.

Rev. John L. Gallagher, S.J.
Moderator

The Cardinal Key Society, after completing its fourth year, again fulfilled its purpose of "fostering loyalty and devotion to Fairfield University, and an increased school spirit among all her students."

This purpose was not achieved without the combined efforts of her thirty-four members, the leadership and dedication of her President Domenick Tarillo, Vice President, Charles Bialowas, Secretary Richard Kinney, Treasurer Joseph DiSpalatra, and the guidance of her moderotor Rev. John L. Gallagher, S.J.

Foremost among the Key's activities this past year were a Blood Bank which yielded over two hundred pints of blood from a generous student body; a Senior Parent's Weekend; and a new innovation, a Council of Keys. This council afforded an opportunity for representatives of various Key societies and honor or service organizations to assemble at Fairfield for a weekend and to exchange ideas of different functions and operating techniques.

On the social side there was the Key's annual intercollegiate mixer, "Moon River"; a rally for the basketball team; bus rides for students wishing to attend away basketball games; and dances after the four weekend basketball games at home. In addition, a soda concession was established to provide refreshments at half time of the home games. Ushers from the Key were found rendering their services for the Drama Society, Basketball games, Glee Club, Business Club, Father-Son Weekend, and various campus and community group functions.

The Key terminated its year by helping to make graduation a smooth running event. Her members ushered, parked cars, distributed caps and gowns, and assembled tickets and invitations.

Fairfield's first College Bowl.

The Student Council is the "executive board of twenty-three members" elected by the student body for representative and regulative purposes. The scope of the Council's activity includes 1) initiating and coordinating all extra curricular and social activities which pertain to the student body, 2) setting the standard and scope of operation for the student organizations, 3) establishing and maintaining rules for all elections sponsored by the Council and 4) reflecting to the Administration student opinion on matters over which the Council has no legislative authority.

Under the guidance of Rev. Richard Rooney, S.J., Moderator, the Council and its officers Gerald McCarthy, President; Kenneth Keane, Vice President; Thomas FitzGerald, Secretary; James Davidson, Corresponding Secretary; and Patrick Hurley, Treasurer, realized an active and productive year. Such activities as the Winter Carnival in February, the College Bowl series, sale of programs at all basketball games, granting student discounts for attendance at all Council functions, were among the major projects undertaken by the organization for the benefit of the entire student body.

Greater unity and more harmonious relations were realized between the students and Administration primarily through the activity of the Student Council. More than ever before, the Council, through its particular members, become the "voice of the students."

STUDENT COUNCIL

Alpha Sigma Nu, the National Jesuit Honor Society, was founded in 1915 to honor those students of Jesuit colleges and Universities who have distinguished themselves in scholarship, loyalty, and service, and to band together those honored in order to implement a fuller understanding and appreciation of the ideals of Jesuit education.

Membership in the Alpha Sigma Nu is considered to be the greatest single honor that a Jesuit University can bestow upon her sons. The Fairfield Chapter of Alpha Sigma Nu, founded in 1961, has already manifested the caliber of its members by successfully sponsoring many cultural activities which have greatly enhanced the opportunities for intellectual advancement at Fairfield. The Student Tutor Society, another project of Alpha Sigma Nu, has enjoyed its second successful year and has been of immense benefit to the individual students of the University.

The members of the Fairfield Chapter of Alpha Sigma Nu for the year 1962-1963 are John Bobinski, Thomas FitzGerald, Gerald McCarthy, Vincent Oliviera, John O'Reilly and William Reidy.

The work of expanding the news area covered by the University is the goal of the Association. Having recovered from the shock of its birth the Association is potentially one of great benefit to the University because of its work in presenting Fairfield to the public.

MARKETING CLUB'S ANNUAL AWARD HONORS FATHER HOHMANN

LIFE MEMBERSHIP is presented to the Rev. Williom H. Hohmonn, S.J., Professor of Economics and Chm. Dept. of Economics of the University by Mr. Gerord J. O'Connor '63, President. Looking on are F.P. Hogon, Rec. Sec., '64. N.G.J. DiCerbo '63, Treas., G.W. Gollo, '63, Vice-Pres. Publicity, The Rev. Horry L. Huss, S.J., Honorary Member and Treas. of the University, Professor Thomos J. Fitzpotrick, Chm. Dept. of Accounting and Business, and Honorary Member, R.M. Torontino, '63 Vice-Pres. Membership, Horry L. Christionson, '64, Corres. Sec., and Mr. T.J.F. Pinkmon, Moderator.

The Reverend William H. Hohmonn, S.J., Professor of Economics and Chairman of the Department of Economics at Fairfield University is the recipient of the Honorary Life Membership Award given annually by the Collegiate Marketing Association. The award was presented to Father Hohmann for his "outstanding contribution to the organization's educational program." This is the third year that the award has been made at Foirfield University. In addition to receiving the award certificate, Father Hohmann also received the American Marketing Association's Gold Honor Key.

The collegiate Marketing Club of this University is one of over a hundred such student groups which are located on the campuses of colleges and universities in the United States and Canada, and is one of the few professional organizations at Foirfield University. The program of the club is designed to acquaint the student members with distribution problems which face the business man today.

Physical Fitness

Today, men of sound mind and body are sorely needed in this world of mechanization. The University seeks to provide and encourage a balance between the two. Pertinent to the development of the student in this field are the varsity and intramural athletic teams. Each student has the opportunity and is encouraged to participate in some aspect of this program. The following pages of this book give witness to the school's achievement in this area.

*Tri-State League game.

Captain Nick Macarchuk, Coach George Bisacca, Captain Bob Hutter.

The members of the class of 1963 at Fairfield University have been an essential part in the school's most successful era of basketball to date. During Freshman year, under the direction of Coach Emil Garofalo, Bob Hutter, Nick Macarchuk, Fred Weismiller, Frank McAnulty, Ron Riescher, and Joe D'Agostin attained a record of 14-7. It is also noteworthy that their schedule was the most difficult one up to that time. With Hutter's 17ppg. average, the Frosh broke even in their first two game series with Holy Cross.

Following their first season playing for Fairfield University, these men took their place on the varsity level under the guidance of Coach George Bisacca. They made up the nucleus of a team which set many records in the Tri-State league. Most outstanding is the fact that the team set an unprecedented record of winning the Tri-State Championship for three consecutive years. With the prolific scoring of Bob Hutter, the power of Nick Macarchuk off the boards, the driving spirit and ball handling ability of Fred Weismiller, plus a strong bench composed of Frank McAnulty, Ron Riescher, and Joe D'Agostin brought Fairfield to the N.C.A.A. Northeastern Regional Finals. Let it be known, that the class of 1963 is not forgetting the great efforts of Bobby Jenkins and Bill Shin during the year and in the finals. Notable awards went to Bob Hutter, who was named to the E.C.A.C. All East Team, First Team All League (Tri-State) and who won national commendation from the Associated Press and United Press International; and Nick Macarchuk, who won a position on the Regionals First Team with a 29 point performance against the University of Rochester.

The 1962-63 season opened once again around Hutter, Macarchuk, Weismiller, and McAnulty, who showed in spot performances last year that he can rebound and play defense with the best of them. Mr. George Bisacca has a strong bench which has seen exceptional achievements from Ron Riescher, Larry Rafferty, Walt Donnelly, Ken Wagner, Kurt Kilty, Joe D'Agostin, Bob Sponza and Joel Pascale. These men have gained further glory for their alma mater by extending a Tri-State League winning streak to 29 straight games over a four year span.

At this occasion, the Manor wishes to salute the seniors on the team: Joe D'Agostin, Ron Riescher, Nick Macarchuk, Fred Weismiller, and Bob Hutter. These men have done much to further the name and fame of Fairfield University.

Pre-Game Time: Caach Bisacca plans his strategy as C.K.S. Usher J. Cervini watches the STAGS warm up.

Frosh Basketball

Coach Lou Saccone and assistant coach Bobby Jenkins, '62, have the material and potential on this year's freshman basketball team to reverse the outcome of last year's season. The team is composed of men who have good shooting and rebounding ability. Playing together for the first time and doing an admirable job of it, are the following freshmen.

Pat Burke, 6'4", is from Hartford Public High School. He was a member of the 1961 New England H.S. champs. He received honorable mention All-New England, honorable mention All-State in 1961, and was named to the second team All-Capital District Conference.

6'3" Stan Poole is also of Hartford Public. He was named the most valuable player in the New England Tournament and also made the All-State and All-New England teams in his final year.

From Hillhouse of Connecticut comes 6'4" Mike Branch, who played varsity ball for three years and averaged close to 22 ppg in his senior year. He was named to the All-District, All-State and All-C.I.A.C. Tournament teams.

6' Jack McGovern hails from St. Francis Prep in Brooklyn. In his senior year he was named MVP in the N.Y. State Championship Tournament and to the 2nd Team All-City.

Thomaston High School sent its outstanding athlete to Fairfield in the form of 6'3" John Benedict. He was picked for the 2nd team in the All-Berkshire League 6'2" Peter Fall from Manhattan Prep was a member of the varsity basketball team for three years He was elected to the New York Journal American All League First Team.

Windsor Locks H.S. contributed 6' Dave Lingua, who averaged 25 ppg senior year He placed on the All-Tournament Team in 1961 and was an All-Stater in '61 and '62

6' Kevin Lyall is a graduate of Bishop Loughlin, Brooklyn. The New York Post named him to their All District Team; the Journal-American voted him to the All-City C H S A A

Rounding out this impressive list are: Shaun Lavin, 5'8", and Walter Rist 6'1", from Fairfield Prep, 5'9" Dan Gatti of Pleasantville High School; Kevin Fitzpatrick, 6'2", a graduate of Manhattan Prep, and representing Bishop Hendricksan H S in Warwick, R I, is 6'1" Ron Hadfield. With their potential, we know that they will add to Fairfield's growing prestige as a college power.

Cross Country

The Fairfield University Varsity Cross Country squad ended its season with a record of three wins, three losses; and a twelfth place finish in the College Track Conference Championship Meet held in New York's Van Cortlandt Park. In his first year as harrier head coach, Mr. Nick Giaquinto saw his team work to a two victory improvement over last year's record. The Stag runners were captained by senior Mick Kinney and paced by the strong running of Larry Longua, Pete Garry, Jim Daly, Richard Anastasio, Dermond Norton, and Jim Fay.

The harriers opened the season with successive losses to the University of Hartford, Boston College, and Queens College. Then, in mid season, the Stags hit their stride and defeated Hunter College, 28-29, on a sprint finish by Sophomore Jim Fay. A second and third place by Mick Kinney and Pete Garry respectively led Fairfield to a 24-32 victory over Southern Connecticut State Teachers College. In the dual meet finale of the season, a team effort again spearheaded by Garry and Kinney produced a 27-29 triumph over Queensboro Community College.

The Fairfield Freshman Cross Country team concluded their season with an even record of two wins and two losses. The yearlings were led by Jim Milton, (who was an eighth place medalist in the C.T.C. Frosh Championship Meet), Gene Mangiardi, Tim Farlow, Doug Dix, and Frank Filipowski.

Intramural Football

Coach Codey directs an "unfortunate one" to the infirmary.

History was made this year on Fairfield University's intramural gridiron. The Senior-Junior Intramural Football League title was won by a junior-captained team. The season reached a climax with a "must" game between Jim Curtin and "Commodore" Hintelmann. The junior led his team to victory by tossing a pass to Don Pijar, who made a spectacular catch for the only score of the day. However, let it be known to all men that Curtin's forward wall was anchored by such senior greats Tim McCue and suave J. Timothy Collins, Jr. Although the "Commodore's" team was hampered by the absence of Bill "The Killer" Sanders in the earlier stages of the game, the slack was amply taken up by Joe Biega, Jim Radigan, Tom Spota, "Speedy" Rich Greene, and Dan "Butterfingers" Eberhard.

The standings were rounded out with Saccomanno placing third, Poole fourth, Baldino fifth, and Hurley and Cavanagh finishing strong — but not strong enough.

Outstanding for Saccomanno were Tom "36" Reddy and Bill Balocki. Jim Poole, a leader in his own right, was greatly aided by Pete Reilly, Phil Bucchi, and John "Tiger" Cervini. Wayne Baldino's team was a pre-season favorite with such stars as versatile Paul Simko, Steve Francis, and Joe DiSpalatro. However, with injuries to "Flash" Baldino and DiSpalatro, the team did well to finish in fifth place. The Hurley team, drawing last pick, could only salvage the "renowned" Roger Lynch, Tim "it's not cold" Huff, and Wally "Baloo" Buser to bolster its efforts. Pete Cavanagh was a standout in leading a hapless squad through a long, tortuous schedule; one of the "hapless" was senior Tom Connor.

The season is over and, except for a few serious injuries, most have recovered from their bruises. In passing on, as most of the senior class is doing, we look warily back at our past days of glory and wish a hearty "Good Luck" to those playing next year.

Circles of Society

Man is a social being. His life is formed by work and relaxation. At Fairfield, we attempt to maintain a proper balance between the two. With this in mind, it is felt that we will be more fully developed in our professional and social circles after graduation. Therefore, we proudly display our participation in the following extra-curricular activities.

Campus Life

MARY FAITH MARTENS
QUEEN OF THE DOGWOOD FESTIVAL

The 1962 Dogwood Festival was one of the major highlights of the Class of 63's life at Fairfield. It was a challange, a job, a worry, a source of great satisfaction, but, most of all, it was one of the best times many of us had ever had.

The Dogwood Festival started during the last week in October of our Junior year when Bill Reidy and the other Class Officers named and assembled all our committee chairmen. From that time until May 11, these sixteen met every week to make sure that the Class of 63's version of the Dogwood Festival would be the very best to date and a hard one to top in the future.

On Friday, May 11, that far off date finally arrived. Thanks mainly to the chairmenship of Gerry McCarthy and Brian Dunn, the Dogwood Prom started the weekend off in excellent fashion. A wonderful evening was made that more memorable when Joe Russoniello introduced the Queen of the Festival, Miss Mary Faith Martens.

After the Prom, everyone headed back to campus for Mike Zapf's Post-prom Party. A good time was had by all, so all were told the next day, as the Class of 63 set a new mark for most people exhausted on the first day of a weekend.

Saturday afternoon found us at Sherwood Island for the Dogwood picnic. It is said that Vinnie Oliviero and Dan Gniadek came within three cans and two hamburgers of dispensing more refreshments than Yankee Stadium did that day. All of our non-athletes proved beyond a doubt that they were our non-athletes, and our athletes proved that they really were out late the night before.

Saturday night's concert in the gymnasium was the highlight of the Dogwood Festival, the event that we all had looked forward to. Don Saccomano and Joe DiSpaltra insured the evening's success by featuring Della Reese and the Kirby Stone Four, the biggest entertainment package ever to appear at Fairfield.

Contrary to all the predictions made on Friday night, Sunday May 13 arrived on schedule. John O'Reilly set another Fairfield precedent by proving that Communion Breakfasts can be very enjoyable. Toastmaster Hank Leonard, Tom Leonard's father, introduced television star Horace McMahon and ex-prizefighter Billy Graham. The Dogwood Festival thereby produced a world-wide first by having "Billy Graham" speak at a Communion breakfast.

The Dogwood's finale was next — the memorable Jazz Party on the lawn at Fairfield's K of C hall. The music was good, the mood even better. No one even minded Ellen Van Valen's shoes flying out into the audience. For the first time in six months Financial Chairman Tom Fitzgerald was seen without his checkbook, and Publicity Chairman Bob Drake without his Magic-Marker. Ticket Chairman Jeff Hughes didn't even mind if you folded your ticket.

The Dogwood Festival was a great experience for all of us, but it's only for undergraduates. Too bad we had to graduate.

JEANNE ALBERS
QUEEN OF THE WINTER CARNIVAL

The 1963 Winter Carnival will be remembered by many as the finest weekend ever held at Fairfield University. The Committee, under the General Chairmanship of C. Donald Cook, planned for three months to produce the finished product pictorially represented on the following pages.

The Carnival as usual had its unofficial beginning late Friday afternoon. That evening Westport's Longshore Country Club was the scene of the Formal Dance. The music for dancing was provided by "The Intonations," and at eleven o'clock a surprised Jeanne Albers from Marymount was crowned Queen of the Winter Carnival.

After the Formal many of the revelers adjourned to Green's Farms Ice Skating Rink. Here many members of the graduating class showed not only their skating skills but also their love of baseball.

Saturday afternoon became very informal on the floor of the back gym. Ellen Van Valen and the Roundabouts warmed the house, but better things were still to come. At 3:15 the long-awaited "Fortunes" came to Fairfield and judging from the applause they were well worth the wait.

That evening the Masquerade Party was held in Berchmans Hall. The "Fortunes" again supplied the music. The highlight of the evening was the awarding of the prizes for the various costumes. John Tesoriero and company captured the Best Group award, Gerry McCarthy was selected as the Most Humorous, and Brian McAuley and date garnered the Best Couple crown.

Sunday morning witnessed the Communion Breakfast in Loyola. Mr. Joseph Petty of WTAG in Worcester, Massachusetts and former faculty member at Fairfield spoke on "The Meaning and Purpose of Our Jesuit Education."

On Sunday afternoon, Tony Bennett relived his Carnegie Hall concert. He didn't disappoint his many fans who crowded into the gymnasium, and with his final encore the 1963 Winter Carnival became history.

Freshman Orientation

The welcoming committee.

The Freshman Orientation of the Class of '65 under the direction of Chairman Vincent Oliviero, opened with a three-day retreat given by Rev. Joseph W. Murphy, S.J. Following the spiritual exercises, the Frosh went through the traditional day of testing and then were allowed to relax at their first college mixer. Over three-hundred girls from the neighboring colleges attended and danced to the music of St. Raphael's Band, which had spent much of the past summer entertaining in Europe.

Saturday morning provided a breather during the week's events, but Saturday afternoon saw the biggest field day Fairfield had ever seen. Events were planned for everyone's participation. A series of track events was balanced by several "clown" activities, and a greased pole climb was one of the highlights of the day. The finale was provided by the traditional tug-o'-war over the pond on the lower end of the campus.

The Frosh's foes for the day were the Sophomores, and they provided worthy opponents indeed. To facilitate the drying-out process after the tug-o'-war, a cook-out for the Freshmen was scheduled in Alumni Field. The awards for the various events were presented at this time from the Concert Shell.

Sunday morning, a Communion Breakfast for the Class of '65 heard Rev. William J. Healy, S.J., then Dean of the University, deliver the main address. That afternoon, the annual President's Reception was held in Loyola Lounge. Refreshments were offered in the TV Lounge by the Bellarmine Guild. Faculty members and parents .of the Freshmen had an opportunity to meet The Very Rev. James E. Fitzgerald, S.J., President of the University.

On the following Saturday, a Freshman mixer was held at the College of New Rochelle, thus concluding the Orientation program.

WISHES THE BEST TO THE CLASS OF 1963

The Ignation Council, Knights of Columbus, wishes the Class of 1963 a most happy and successful future. We especially thank our departing brother knights for the work that they have put in to make this council the best college council in the United States. For the past six years we have bettered the previous record. This year more than any other year we have accomplished national recognition in all fields of Columbianism. We will try to preserve and, if possible, better your record. Good luck . . .

Congratulations

Best Wishes

WHO CARES IF YOU GRADUATE?

YOU DO, OF COURSE. Your parents, too, and your friends. Your teachers who have dedicated themselves to working with you and your classmates. To that list we'd like to suggest you add the name of General Electric.

For at General Electric we know well that our future is linked to yours and to that of your fellow graduates throughout the United States. A successful business needs more and more skills, better and better educated employees. So we care, too!

We care enough to try to help in the staggering task of educating today's young people. To that end General Electric matches the gifts of its employees to their colleges and universities, it sponsors summer study for high school teachers, it provides undergraduate and graduate grants and fellowships, it helps schools and colleges obtain laboratory equipment, it provides teaching aids for high school classrooms, it supports projects in educational television.

These are a few of the things we take pride in doing — not as philanthropy — but as an investment in you and thousands like you who are our partners in progress.

LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE: Jim Toomey — 107 Long Islandview Rd., Milford, Conn., TR 8-3280

In the 1963 MANOR we have tried to give you a pictorial and biographical history of the Fairfield University we have watched develop during these past four years. We believe that the New Horizons are unlimited, and that Fairfield University will continue to improve and establish new traditions in keeping with the theme of our book.

At this time I would like to formally thank the people who have helped make the 1963 MANOR possible. The following deserve special recognition:

Thomas FitzGerald, Business Manager, whose ability and leadership made the MANOR a financial success.

Thomas Connor, Literary Editor, whose imagination and talent in creative writing was an all important factor in the presentation of the true story of Fairfield University.

Michael Clarke, Photography Editor, whose never ending patience brought forth these past four years' history in such a sparkling fashion.

Frederick Tartaro, Director of Public Relations, whose donated pictures made possible the full coverage of our athletic section.

Miss Mickett, Mrs. Howard, and the rest of the secretarial staff for their kind assistance in the gathering of needed information and for allowing us to take over their private lunch room for Senior portraits.

Marvin Merin and the staff of the Merin Studios, whose patience, understanding, and quality workmanship gave us the finest pictures ever to appear in a Fairfield University yearbook.

James Toomey of American Yearbook Company, publishers of the MANOR, who more than anyone else is responsible for the success of our book.

Respectfully yours,
Timothy A. Huff
